Note: I have all Pike Co., Ky. Deaths already extracted, typed and indexed. Thought about having it published. I am sending these Bevins Deaths since it wasn't much trouble to look them up. The Bevins Births & Marriages I would have to read the microfilm again.

*I thought this was your Mary Stacy Bevins, but the age should be 67 not 57. She was 60 in 1850 Census, 7 yrs. later would make her 67. I may have misread the film, it is very hard to read in places. I will recheck this when I have the film on.

 This is George, brother to Jemima.

P. S. If the Polly is Mary Stacy then that gives you her father's name, George Stacy, mother'Mary"Polly"_____. from N. C.

Revolutionary War Grave Is Dedicated

DESCENDANTS of Revolutionary War solider, William Gannon, Sr., and members of the Edgar County Historical Society and Madam Rachel Edgar chapter, DAR, gathered at the Old Baptist Cemetery southeast of Vermilion Sunday afternoon for a dedication ceremony. Locating and marking graves of Revolutionary War soldiers has been a project of the DAR, and Mrs. Ernest Stephens, chairman of the genealogical records committee of Madam Rachel Edgar chapter, was in charge of the dedication service.

A dedication ceremony was held Sunday afternoon by the Edgar County Historical Society and Madam Rachel Edgar chapter, DAR for a Revolutionary War soldier, William Gannon, Sr., buried in the Old Baptist cemetery, southeast of Vermilion. Representatives from both groups, as well as some of his descendants were in attendance. They were Mr. and Mrs. Beryl (Elsie) Donaldson of Decatur; Mrs. Ross (Claire) Donaldson and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Dorotha) Carlock, all of Taylorville.

Following the opening prayer given by Mrs. Ernest Stephens, who served as chairman for the service, Walter Kimble, historian for the historical society, told of the importance of knowing the history of those who helped found our county. He also spoke of the trails of those men who fought to provide our freedom today.

Mrs. Ruth Frey gave a history of William Gannon and his family. He was born in Ireland Feb. 1, 1758, and died in Edgar County Oct. 27, 1844, and was buried just 134 years ago. He was married to Elizabeth "Betsy" Tramble, 1760-1845, and in 1840 was living with the Henry Pennington family. He entered land in Edgar County May 12, 1829. William Gannon, Sr., and his wife, had three daughters and seven sons.

He enlisted in the Revolutionary War July, 1780, in North Carolina, Rowan County, in a company commanded by Capt. Peter O'Neal in the regiment commanded by Col. Matthew Sashe. On Jan. 1, 1781, he enlisted for 12 months in the company commanded by Capt. William Coles and marched to Catawba where he was ordered to go get corn for the army. He got 300 bushels of corn and returned to fight in the Battle of Catawba Feb. 1, 1781.

He was next in the Battle of Eutaw Springs and Guilford Courthouse under the command of Col. Washington and they went on to Hughanne where they took 150 Tories as prisoners. In this battle Gannon was wounded with a shot in the head.

They next marched to Camden where they captured 500 British and he later received a discharge from Col. Matthew Loche.

Gannon stated he came from Ireland to the Salisbury district of North Carolina where he resided until the close of the war. Then he moved to Rockingham County, N.C. where he resided for 30 years before coming up to Floyd County, Ky. for six years, and finally to Edgar County, Ill. William James Mayo testified in his behalf, and his certificate No. 133383 issued July 3, 1833, at the rate of $50 per year began March 4, 1831, Act of June 7, 1832.

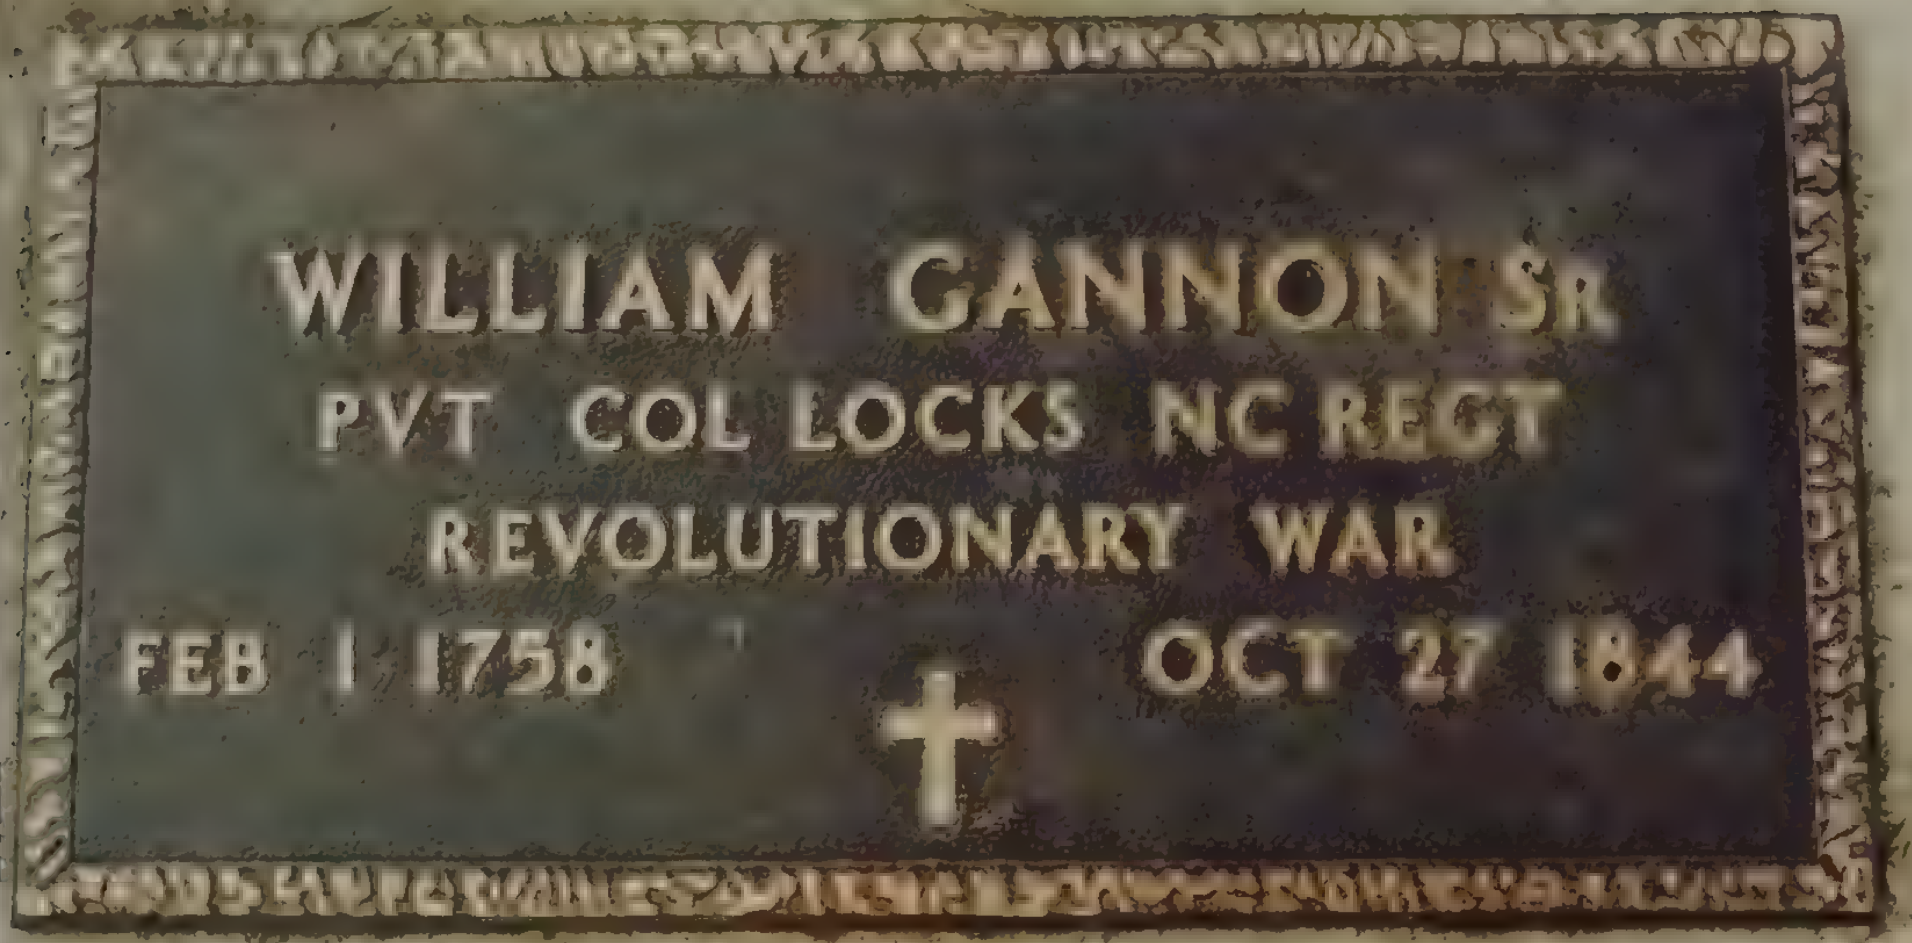

Flowers and an American flag were placed on the grave of William Gannon's grave as the those gathered recalled that soldiers of that day were inadequately clothed and marched until their shoes were worn out and their feet bled from walking on ice. The weeds were tall as a man and many died from cold, as well as hunger, said Mrs. Stephens.

There are 28 known Revolutionary soldiers buried in Edgar County with only six not proven as to their burial place. However, there is a record showing they have received pensions and have lived here.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Suggs of O'Fallon, Ill., also descendants of William Gannon, were unable to attend Monday's ceremony, due to illness in the family.

AT DEDICATION

Among the persons attending the dedication ceremony Sunday for Revolutionary War soldier William Gannon's grave was Ross Donaldson, a descendent of the soldier.

Zandra,

Many thanks for the info. I have a couple of things different in my material and wonder which is right.

A copy of the 1850 census shows William Williams age 65, Mary 58 and Mary 20. Assuming the Marys are wife and dau. the ages fit our dates. If accurate, this would make WW date of birth 1785. I have b. 19 Feb. 1785, d. 15 Oct. 1862from a Pikeville resident who copied these dates from his tombstone. Both William and mary are buried in the Gannon Cemetery on Johns Creek in Pike Co. along with others related. I have been to the cemetery and found the graves of Achilles and Nancy McCoy Williams who are my Great Grandparents. Did not have time to see the whole cemetery unfortunately.

Have not gotten into the NC part of research. That's next. I think Orpha Williams Gannon was sister of our William Williams but don't have proof. "Annals of Floyd Co., Kentucky - 1800 - 1826" shows a letter of request for permission to marry dated 1 March 1820 for Orpha and Daniel and signed by "Caty W. Williams" a sister of Orpha.

See Gannon. Thanks again.

Connie

Corpus John Williams in 1790 as Williamson is listed as Williams with more children

Pike Circuit Court File # 2222
William Williams and Wife sued
Martha Meskins - Saying Selby met Martha in public highway and Martha beat her with rocks and clubs until she was so injured that she had to lay in bed 3 Months. Filed 16 April 1864
This suit was settled by a judgement on 30 Nov. 1867.

After this date I never found
William and Selby in Pike co. again.
After I got your letter I realized Martha and Selby were sisters-in-law. Doing genealogy is like working jigsaw puzzles,
it all fits together piece by piece.
imagine this happened 113 years ago.

I hope you can tell me where this couple settled or if they had more children?

Again I say thank you for writing me, and I hope to hear from you again. If you have any questions please feel free to ask.

Sincerely
Muriel S. Hoge

Court Order Index Book

Several entries for William Williams concerning roads, etc.

John H. Williams, appointed Administrator - Book D., page 213, 1866

Note: I checked the above out as I thought this was possibly where he was appointed Adms. of his father's estate but it was for Walter Thornsbury. No important information just a statement that he was appointed than about a year later he resigned and the estate was placed in the hands of the sheriff.

The 1867 entry was the last entry for John H. Williams.

There were no entries where anyone was appointed Admr. of the Estates of Wm. Williams or Mary Williams.

Polly Williams - Land Warrant - Court Order Book D. p. 43, 1865 Land Order No. 369 - ordered that the Surveryor of Pike County survey 200 acres of ____land in Pike Co. for Polly Williams. She having produced a Treasurer's receipt for the same.

William Williams, Sr. to James T. Williams, 14 Oct. 1853, land on John's Creek. Book D, page 45

(looked at these two deeds. Did not state relationship but land was ajoining.)

John H. Williams to Jackson Deskins, 21 April 1857, Book D, page 351 ("part of what William Williams had given him"....)

Mary & William Williams to George Stump, 27 May 1856, Book D, page 470

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

I have recently secured copies of some additional marriage records of Floyd Co., Ky. and I have found the bond and a letter of consent among them, for the marriage of Daniel Damron and Orpah Williams. I am enclosing copies of these items.

"Capt W Williams" could hardly have been other than William Williams. He stated that he was the sister of Orpah — I seriously doubt that, but am willing to believe that he was her brother.

Considering this new ~~record~~ information, it is probable that the names of Orpah's parents given in her death record are probably correct.

Sincerely yours,

Clyde Runyon.

P.S. The other information with the license was an error, although I (or my wife) might have made the error in copying. — C. Runyon

Dear Sandra:

I think that there is little doubt but that the William Williams and Polly Gannon who were married in Stokes Co., N.C., in 1810, were the William and Mary listed in the 1850 and 1860 censuses of Pike Co., Ky. I believe that the "Capt" William Williams was the older of the [redacted] two found in the 1830 censuses of Pike Co.. I don't know where the younger one fits in the family; I have found no record of his marriage in Pike Co.

I am enclosing what records I have of the censuses for Williams in Surry Co., N.C., in 1800, and in Stokes Co., N.C., in 1800 and 1810, and in Floyd Co., Ky., in 1820, and in Pike Co., Ky., in 1830.

Orpha Gannon's death record shows parents: James and Perlina Williams. Unfortunately, William Williams had a [redacted] son, James T. Williams, who married Perlina Hensley, giving rise to the possibility of an error in the death record.

Xmas and Income Tax time are nearly here, so I may not get much research done before April.

Wishing you a Merry Xmas.

Sincerely yours,

Clyde Runyon.

published by William Perry Johnson in 1975, but is now out of print.[2]

This writer found tax lists for 1844 among the records of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, and these were published in The Guilford Genealogist, Vol. 11, No. 1, 1983. There may be other such lists hidden among the court minutes.

In any case, the present townships of Guilford probably correspond to some extent with the old tax and militia districts.

Musters were held periodically and sometimes degenerated into rowdy occasions. The men were supposed to furnish their own arms and ammunition, but a system was devised to help those who were unable to provide their own. From the records it can be inferred that musters were not always taken seriously, especially when there was no threat of war or insurrection. When records of courts martial have survived they give insight into the workings of the militia, but most of these are no more than minutes, with very little detail. In P. Ruffin Tucker's fine article, "Court Martial Minutes, Guilford County, 1806-1852," he gives us an example of this for several of the years.[3]

The following are possible sources of more information on the Guilford Co. militia:

a. Session Laws of North Carolina. These are printed summaries of laws enacted by the General Assembly. They may be found in larger libraries among the rare books, or in the Search Room, North Carolina State Archives (NCSA).

b. Adjutant General's Office. Search Room, NCSA. In AG7 is a Roster of the General Field Officers of the Militia of North Carolina, 1813, Guilford Co. 1st Regiment has 12 companies; 2nd Regiment has 11 companies. Only the names of the field officers are given.

c. Governor's Papers. These are in the Search Room, NCSA. Check these for letters written to the governor and by the governor in office during the period of interest.

d. State and Colonial Records of North Carolina.[5,6,7]

Treasurer's and Comptroller's Records. Search Room, NCSA.

There may be other records hiding in attics and trunks in private hands. An example of this is the Commission from the office of Governor Gabriel Holmes to Lt. Christopher Fields appointing him a lieutenant in the 8th Regiment of Cavalry, 4th Division; dated 13 November 1822. A cousin found this commission among the papers of his great-great-grandfather and made a copy for this writer. Most officers were elected by the men of their units; then the commanding officers passed the information up through channels of command to the office of the governor, who then caused the commission to be acted upon. The original made a good photocopy, which is reproduced below.

In conclusion, militia records are very scarce and scattered among many other record source. But it can be presumed that most of the adult male population were associated with it at some point in their lives.
